OLD TIMER IN EDMONTON

Mr. W. W. Buchanan, of the Winnipeg Commercial, is an interesting visitor in Edmonton this week. The Edmonton of today is slightly different from the Edmonton of that Mr. Buchanan saw twenty three years ago when he arrived overland from Winnipeg by ex-car. Then a few scattered houses, now a flourishing city. In 1882 when Mr. Buchanan was editor of the Winnipeg Sun, there were many interesting experiences in which Edmonton figured prominently. When Edmonton was first put on the Winnipeg market, the price was $30 and in a few hours the wildest excitement prevailed and the lots ran up to $300 apiece. This was when the C. P. R. was expected to run through Edmonton. The next day the boom burst. Mr. Buchanan speaks very enthusiastically of the vast country to the north and northeast of here. He believes that west of Hudson Bay there are as many reindeer now as there were buffalo in Western Canada years ago.

COUNCIL MEETING

The postponed meeting of the city council was held in the council chamber Monday night, commencing at 8:30 o'clock. Mayor Short and Councillors Fraser, Grierson and Cushing were present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted on the motion of Councillors Grierson and Cushing.

An interesting feature of last night's session was the airing of the different steamboat schemes for the navigating of the Saskatchewan at Edmonton. There are three parties at work; A. Pierce, who has a small side wheeler craft in operation; H. H. Ross, Medicine Hat, who has been discussing the question of operating a steamer on the river at Edmonton with members of the council. But he does not know whether he can get to Edmonton this year or not and gives no definite promise of getting here at all. Messrs. Crockett and Blum have spent upwards of $2,000 on a test of the river. The test was satisfactory and they are winding up their business in Forsyth, Montana, and will permanently locate in Edmonton. They definitely announce to the council that this winter they will build a hundred foot steamer, costing $15,000, for river work. Further they state their intention of building additional steamers as conditions warrant them in doing so. These are the three propositions. A. Pierce requests permission to build a temporary freight shed and loading platform on the town's property below the bridge for his own use. H. H. Ross asks exemption from taxation for his steamer and to a certain extent on any buildings he would find it necessary to erect. Crockett and Blum ask permission to build a 200 or 300 foot wharf, freight sheds and other necessary buildings on land below the bridge, for the use of which they would pay a nominal rental. The wharves, etc., to be constructed at their own expense over which, naturally, they demand exclusive rights. They also ask for exemption from taxation for the steamer they will build this year.

Mayor Short thought it would be advisable for the town to build a wharf and charge a nominal rental for the use of the same. It was finally decided to allow Mr. Pierce to proceed with the erection of a temporary wharf and freight shed on the property of the town for which he would pay a rental of one dollar a year with the proviso that the town could terminate the lease at any time that it was deemed advisable to construct permanent wharves. Crockett and Blum were granted exemption from taxation for their steamer, but were ordered to be notified that the land upon which they requested permission to build did not all belong to the town, but partly to F. Oliver, M.P. The secretary-treasurer was requested to write H. H. Ross asking him to state definitely if he intended putting a steamer on the river here next year. In this connection, Councillor Grierson thought it was absolutely necessary to partly pile the river below the bridge to prevent the water washing away the bank at this point. It was the councillor's opinion that the government would make a grant for this purpose.

A. Cristall petitioned, to be allowed to add an additional storey to his frame store at the corner of Jasper and McDougall streets, contrary to the provisions of the fire by-law. It was unanimously decided not to entertain the petition.

The members of the fire brigade are buying blue uniform coats and vests for themselves and they asked that the council supply them with caps to complete the uniform. The council granted their request. The cost of forty necessary caps will aggregate about seventy dollars.

J. Stovel requested the payment of $437.84, the amount of money held back on his contract, re sewer pipe. The agreement does not authorize this payment until twelve months from the present and it was decided to remain rigidly by the contract.

Dobson, Jackson & Fry advised the council that they would be able to build an additional mile of sewer pipes this year after the completion of their contract. As pipe material will likely be short, the matter was laid over for the present.

—Tenders are being called for the conveyance of mail once a week each way between Beaver Lake and proposed Dinwiddie, section 15, township 52, range 13, west of fourth, from the 1st October next.

—Owing to the frequent inquiries made of F. F. Tims, secretary of the Edmonton Board of Trade, re excursions to the coast, he wrote C. E. McPherson, general passenger agent of the C. P. R. for information. Last night Mr. Tims received a reply intimating that as soon as the excursion will be arranged it would be duly advertised.

—The temperance meeting in the Presbyterian church last night was a great success. Mr. A. B. Cushing occupied the chair, Rev. C. H. Huettner and Rev. D. G. McQueen assisted in the devotional exercises. Mr. Frank Buchanan of Toronto, the national chief of the Royal Templars, was the first speaker and he devoted himself largely to impressing the need of better organization among temperance workers.

Mr. W. W. Buchanan, of Winnipeg, who spoke for more than an hour dealt with the object and progress of the temperance reform in most interesting and entertaining manner. Rev. D. G. McQueen and Mr. D. H. Lent in very flattering speeches, moved a vote of thanks and it was decided to hold another meeting to be addressed by the same gentlemen in the Baptist church tonight.

Militia Pay

On Wednesday, June 29th, Lieut. Col. Thompson, M. P. for Haldimand, Ont., Liberal, drew the attention of parliament to the small turnout to the annual twelve days' camp and drill of the country volunteer battalions. He blamed the small rate of pay 50 cents a day, and advocated raising the rate to one dollar a day. In the course of the debate Mr. Oliver spoke as follows: Hansard, June 29th.

Mr. FRANK OLIVER (Alberta) I wish to congratulate the hon. member for Haldimand (Mr. Thompson), not so much on the clever manner in which he presented his case, as on his courage in presenting it. It requires some courage on the part of a private member to offer what may be considered a criticism of the administration which he supports. That is not a frequent occurrence in the House, and it is all the more creditable to the hon. gentleman who takes this course. It is right and proper that a member of parliament, on whatever side he may be, should offer criticism from his place when he feels it to be necessary. I regret that in this instance, instead of my hon. friend being supported in the position he takes by the other side of the House, instead of the debate being pursued from the strictly non-partisan standpoint from which he spoke, his criticisms are at once made use of for party attack. Let me say that the Government is not so open to attack on this point as is the opposition whose duty it is to criticize and put before the country the shortcomings of the government whenever any exist.

There is a certain condition of affairs in the militia force. The hon. member for Haldimand says the pay is too low. The pay is the same as it was ten or fifteen years ago, no more and no less. If it is not enough today—and certainly I for one say it is not enough, and I am glad we have the endorsement of members of the opposition to the same effect. The reason is that the conditions of the country have changed. Now that may not be placed to the credit of the government—it will certainly not be by our friends of the opposition—but I hope they will not blame the government for this change of conditions.

As the general question has been discussed in the House the views I hold in offering to House the views I hold in regard to military matters and militarism. A voluntary organization, such as we have and hope to maintain, is the very opposite of militarism, as I understand the word. A system whereby the citizens of the country voluntarily band themselves together for the purpose of fitting themselves to defend the country in time of danger is entirely different from the system under which they are forced to take service and play the part of soldiers in such proportion to the population as to constitute a back-breaking burden upon the country. That is what I understand as militarism—the condition which prevails in European countries where the whole population is levied upon, willing or unwilling, and the burden is so great as to cripple the state, financially, commercially and industrially. It would be a good thing if there were no necessity for soldiers. There may come a time in the history of earth when soldiers will not be necessary. I believe we are taught something to that effect in Sunday school. But the fact is that that time has not yet arrived. The fact is also, that if we would play our part as men, as a nation and as a part of the empire, we must be prepared to hold what we have, even if we have to hold it by force. There is only one way of doing it. As long as we are in the world, we cannot escape the responsibilities of human beings. And the history of the world is this—the man or the nation who will not defend their own rights or their own honor very soon are brought into a position of being obliged to defend somebody else's rights and somebody else's honor. We cannot escape from that position, and it is our part, as men, to support our place, if God has given us a place, and to support that place with credit and dignity.

It has been said that there is no use in our organizing a military force in this country, that we are a small country, a weak country, and that we cannot provide a military force that could be adequate for our purposes. We are about six millions of people and our country is one of the largest in the world. We have interests to defend. Then in God's name, what else are we to do but defend those interests? And, although in Canada we are only five or six millions of people, we surely do not forget that we belong to or more properly, we are part of, an empire which stretches around the world, and which contains hundreds of millions of loyal subjects who are prepared to shed their blood in all parts of the empire and in all places of the world for the maintenance of what they believe to be their best interests under the empire's flag. If the native of India, a man who is not of the same race or the same religion as ourselves, who knows nothing of our language, if that man, is ready to shed his blood for the flag of Britain, surely, we men of Canada, of British birth or British descent—or, if you like, of French birth or descent, for I would not say anything so discreditable to a man that he would not fight for what he believed to be his rights—it is not for us, surely, to say that we will not take our part, either as soldiers or as taxpayers in maintaining the integrity of the British empire, which can only be maintained by defending it whenever it may be attacked, be it near or far, if it is necessary.

I should say certainly it would be better to have a smaller number of soldiers, well paid, than to have a larger number poorly paid. I do not pretend for an instant that this country can offer to those who are its citizen soldiers a monetary inducement or even adequate compensation. We cannot do that, but we can certainly offer them an indemnity that will show at least our good will and that will not make an invidious distinction between these men who when called upon to serve by putting in their drill as volunteers, are ready thus to show their patriotism, and those who stay at home. We cannot all turn out and drill as volunteers. Possibly we all don't want to. Some of us are not very ardent military men in our own persons, and of those, I admit, I am one. But I hope I am not so unfit to be a citizen of a free country that I am not prepared to pay reasonably and honorably the man who does sacrifice his time and thereby displays his patriotism.

On the advice of Engineer Chipman it was decided to install a check valve and by pass in the water main below the hill on Fourth street, H. B. R., to stop the water from running down the hill in case of an accident.

A communication was read from the secretary-treasurer of the school district building of a sidewalk to serve the public school. It was decided to build a sidewalk on the east and south sides of the new school block, provided that the cost be charged to the school board and that the town advertise its intention of building a six foot sidewalk on the west side of McDougall street, from the corner of May street to Isabella, with intervening crossings; also its intention of constructing sidewalks along the north or south side of 4th street, from Queens to Namayo street, and also all necessary crossings.

A communication was read from the deputy commissioner of agriculture, Regina, enclosing a report on Territorial hospitals. Edmonton needs an isolation hospital. The report recommended that Edmonton take over the present public hospital as an isolation hospital and join with Strathcona in building a large public hospital. The report mentioned the good work being done by the public hospital. Alex Taylor, who was present, said that he thought no terms could be arrived at with Strathcona. The matter was laid over for the present.

A long discussion followed on the removal of the franchise of the Edmonton District Telephone Company. The mayor thought that a provision should be inserted providing that if the present management wished to sell out the town should have the first opportunity of buying. Mr. Taylor saw many difficulties in the way of this scheme. The company is prepared to grant free telephones to several of the town officials, and also agree to operate the fire alarm system. Further discussion was deferred for the present.

John McKenzie and others petitioned for the extension of the water and sewer systems on Fourth street, H. B. R. from Jasper north. The petition was granted, the work to proceed in order of priority.

P. A. Walker petitioned to have a part of McDougall street brushed and cleared to give access to his property. This matter was referred to the engineer with power to act.

H. Sigler and others petitioned to have an arc light at the corner of Fifth and Peace avenues. This would necessitate the running of additional wires and poles and as there will be no remuneration, as the residents refuse to install lights, the petition was not granted.

Several petitions for sidewalks were referred to the engineer.

Engineer Armstrong gave a lengthy report on the various matters delegated to him. Tenders have been received for a hose wagon and chemical engine. Fifteen hundred feet of Paragon hose, eight rubber coats, one pair rubber gloves, twelve saws, etc., have been ordered for the fire brigade.

Mays and Wylie have been granted the contract for furnishing coal for the power house at three dollars per ton. The estimated requirement this year is three thousand tons. Mr. McKernan was released from his contract and his account of $96 for 22 tons of coal delivered July 3rd, was ordered to be paid. The town will have to erect a five or six hundred dollar coal shed at the power house.

Cowart, C. H. Stewart Wade, and A. Cowart, C. H. Stewart Wade, and A. R. Tomlinson. The latter was awarded the position.

Fred Wagner, Saigson & McRae, and Wagner and Company tendered on police clothing. Wagner and Company were awarded the contract at $28 or $29.

The following accounts were passed: D. R. Fraser and Company, $57.61; McColl Bros. and Company, $76.85; E. Grierson, $175; Edmonton Clothing Company, $45.50; W. H. Clark, $1.08; E. Sour Stomach—Bad Breath.

The body depends on the bowels to carry off all waste and poisonous matters from the system—It is Nature's drainage. If the bowels don't perform their functions properly and become clogged up, the system gradually absorbs this poison. It is this which causes sick headache, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath, inactive liver, lack of energy, heartburn, etc.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt will cure you by clearing away the obstruction and thoroughly cleansing the bowels. This brings healthy action to all the organs of the body and rids the system of the cause of illness.
In this way Abbey's Effervescent Salt permanently cures. A teaspoonful in half a glass of tepid water every morning.

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

Edmonton is essentially a church-going town. All the different churches were crowded to the doors on Sunday, both morning and evening. In several of the churches there were special services. In the Methodist church the Rev. C. H. Huestis, M.A., preached his first sermon on taking charge. Mr. Huestis is a young man of great enthusiasm and his discourses were full of earnest and convincing logic. In the morning he preached from the text "Did not our hearts burn within us as he talked to us by the way," dwelling on the fact that deep religious feeling is a proof of divine reality. In the evening he took as the subject of his discourse, "Yet once more, significantly the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain." In contrast to the transitory things of this world, several topics were mentioned to show things that could not be shaken. (1) God. If you seek the truth you realize the irresistible feeling that God exists. (2) The Bible. Some interpretations of minor passages in the Bible have been changed, but the great truth remains with us to the last. (3) The church, which is doing God's work cannot be shaken. (4) Hope. One of the great characteristics of the age in which we are living is hope—hope for the future. The choir furnished special music.

Rev. A. G. McKinnon, delegate from the United Free Church of Scotland to the recent Presbyterian general assembly, preached in the Presbyterian church. Large congregations greeted him both morning and evening. In connection with his evening discourse he mentioned his surprise at the wonderful progress being made by the Canadian west and particularly by this district. Every true Canadian today is filled with hope and confidence in the future. The people of Western Canada have a great responsibility in moulding the future of this great western country.

W. W. Buchanan, of Winnipeg, addressed large congregations in the Baptist church on temperance texts. His addresses were very interesting and instructive throughout.

In the other churches the regular ministers addressed large congregations.

RED DEER

Advocate, The crop conditions at present fore-shadow a fine harvest.

The plans for the new court house and Dominion land office have arrived.

Mr. A. E. Farncombe, of Regina, who is to be the successor of R. C. Laurie, the surveyor here, arrived on Monday and will at once gather together a party and start work in this district.

Monday evening the boom across the river belonging to Bawltinsheimer & Sons, broke just as the logs were coming down, a great many logs being lost. At midnight they succeeded in getting the boom in place once more, thereby saving the majority of them. This is not the first time this has occurred in the history of the lumber industry on the Red Deer River. Great precautions are necessary to drive logs down it and harbor them safely at the mills.

His Last Hope Realized

(From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont.)

In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1890, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat gave him a very severe diarrhoea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed, and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep for a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel disorders being at hand suggests this item. For sale by all druggists.
